Location

Mawphlang village is situated in the southern part of Shillong, its highest altitude is 1863 metres from sea level. It lies on the slope of U Rynkew Mawiong Hills surrounding the peak. It stands on the plateau between the Wah Umiew and Umiam Mawphlang River in the East and Wah Rina and Wah Lyngkien River in the West. Mawphlang cover an area of about 12 sq.Km. It is believe that its name derived from the local popular presence of hard stones (rock) called (Maw-phlang)

The people of Mawphlang are Khasis and belong to Austro-Asiatic race nearest to the Khmer Community of Cambodia. Many dialects have the same meaning and the word structure and syntax is in the same pattern. The history of the village can be traced back to the past 500 years when the Blah Clan settled there and subsequently followed by the other clans to form the Khad-ar-Kur and these established what is known as Hima Mawphlang.

Mawphlang claim to fame was its sacred grove, which is the best conserved sacred grove in Meghalaya and in India as well. It stand on a basin of a saucer-shaped depression with the hills sloping all around, the grove covers an area of 76.88 hectares with a core area of 40 hectares. It is believed to be about 500 years old, and is a natural treasure house of biodiversity. It has always been conserved as per traditional beliefs, customs, and religious rituals.
